Market Watch

In this section of Global Insight we will advise you of any market trends we identify. These trends may be of particular markets or industries and may be National or State related.

As is usual for our industry January started fairly quiet with everybody not fully back on board until later in the month, but since Mid January there has been a significant increase in activity. Our market information shows a high volume of Winding Up Applications in the latter half of the month.

We believe and have been advised from many of our industry colleagues that we all expect to have a busy year ahead and wish you all the very best in business.
